To Whom It May Concern:

Arm-R-Lite Door Manufacturing has been selling sectional overhead doors for over fifty years. We strive for quality in our doors and our employees. We also expect it from our installers.

Over the years we have worked with Joe Epton and found his support team to be outstanding. John Chamberland, is a major part of Joe's team. John's ability to provide quality installations on all projects, whether large or small is invaluable. His ability to see all details on projects makes him one of our company's most successful dealers. Joe and John are supported by their inside staff of Jeff Manson, Jessica Bartlett and Matt PeGan.

Arm-R-Lite has dealt closely with Joe Epton and John Chamberland for almost 15 years. We have never had anything but outstanding reviews of their work; whether it is one of our unique custom one of a kind doors or the simplest of doors. We are able to maintain close communication with them throughout any project and have always been kept apprised of the entire project, from beginning to end. In addition, they always provided us with the highest quality of installations.

Based upon Arm-R-Lite's experience with Joe, John, Jeff, Jessica and Matt, any company should be pleased to do business with them. We look forward to another 15 years of business partnership and friendship.

Sincerely,

Shannon McGrady
