To Whom It May Concern,

Overhead Door Corporation is the industry's leader and largest manufacturer in North America, offering residential doors and openers, commercial sectional doors, rolling doors and commercial openers.

In 1998 when I was first introduced to Joe Epson, he was in the process of building West Coast Door from a start-up company into a leader in the southern California market with a reputation for superior workmanship and integrity. Joe has sold millions of dollars of Overhead Door products over the past 12 years. With that I have witnessed Joe's dedication and desire to always exceed expectations and be the best of the best. This professionalism and passion are the qualities Overhead Door Corporation expects from our partners and why we continue to support Joe Epson.

Sincerely,
